Dear Sir:

I hereby state, as required under 37 C.F.R. §1.52(e), that the accompanying two compact discs are identical copies (duplicate copies), containing a single file entitled: "Table 1. Align-2 program source code.doc" (IBM-PC, MS-Office Word 2007 document), 103 KB in size, created July 9, 2010. The compact disc with computer program listing appendix contains no new matter.

In order to access and/or decrypt the data, you will need to utilize the SecurFlash software, which is included on the disc. If Autorun is enabled on your computer, the program will start automatically on your computer, and you will be prompted for the password. After successfully entering the password, you will have access to the files, and can either open them, or decrypt them by dragging them to your local hard drive. If Autorun is disabled on your computer, you will need to browse to the CD, and double click the file named OpenSecureFiles.exe. The password is: gne-0269r1

Respectfully submitted,
